

Privacy Policy

Last Revised May 23, 2006.

BiMedical.net, LLC (BiMedical) recognizes the importance of protecting the privacy of all information provided by our customers. Keeping customer information secure, and using it only as our customers want us to, is a top priority for us. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) will not sell, share, or rent this information, for commercial purposes, to any person or organization outside BiMedical or its authorized reseller(s). The BiMedical.net™, site (the "Site") may contain links to other web sites operated by third parties. BiMedical is not responsible for the privacy practices or policies of these sites. BiMedical recommends that you review the privacy policy of each site you visit. By visiting BiMedical.net™, you are accepting the practices described in this Privacy Policy.

1. Security. BiMedical will take all reasonable steps to safeguard any information our customers share with us. This site is secured with a GeoTrust SSL Certificate. All information sent to this site, if in an SSL (Secure Sockets Layer) session, is encrypted, protecting you against interception or interruption by any third party. While on a secure page on the Site, the lock icon on the bottom of your browser becomes locked. You can also identify the secure connection by looking at the URL, which will begin with https: (instead of http:).
2. How We Collect Account Information. During account setup, BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) receives and stores pertinent information you provide. You understand and agree that this information may be transferred across national boundaries and may be stored and processed in any of the countries in which BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) maintains an office including, without limitation, the United States. You also acknowledge that in certain countries or with respect to certain activities, the collection, transferring, storage and processing of your information may be undertaken by an authorized reseller(s). Such reseller(s) is bound by contract to not use your personal information for their own purposes or provide it to any third parties. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) will take all reasonable steps to safeguard all personally identifiable information you provide.
3. How We Use Your Account Information. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) will limit the collection and use of customer information to the minimum required to deliver exceptional service to our customers, which includes advising our customers about our products and services, and to administer our business. We will permit only approved BiMedical employees, or approved employees of our authorized reseller(s), who are trained in the proper handling of customer information, to have access to this information. Employees who violate this Policy are subject to disciplinary action including termination. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) will not reveal customer information to any external organization unless we have been authorized by the customer or are required by law.

4. How To Control Your Account Information. Customers can contact us at any time to remove their names from our mailing lists. Removing your name from our mailing lists applies only to marketing. We reserve the right to communicate with you regarding the usability of the Site or critical messages relating to your service (such as subscription renewal notices or legally mandated notices).
5. How We Collect Automatic Information. BiMedical also receives and stores certain types of information whenever your browser accesses BiMedical.net[™]. For each session, BiMedical may collect your Internet Protocol (IP) address, browser type and version, ISP, platform type, number of clicks, domain name and country/state. To help remind the Site of who you are and to deliver services based on your account information, like many web sites, BiMedical uses “cookies”. Cookies are pieces of information that BiMedical transfers to your computer’s hard drive through your browser to enable our systems to recognize you. You will not be able to use the Site if you set your browser to not accept cookies.
6. Purchases. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) must request personally identifiable information and financial information to facilitate your purchase. This information is strictly confidential. Financial information is only used for billing purposes and to complete your order. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) will take all reasonable steps to safeguard all personally identifiable and financial information you provide.
7. Updating Your Account Information. Corrections or updates to account information may be made at any time by the Account Manager by contacting BiMedical or its authorized reseller(s). You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account and password and for restricting access to your computer(s). You agree to accept responsibility for all activities that occur under your account or password.
8. Children. Because of the nature of our business, the Site is not designed to appeal to children under the age of 13. We do not knowingly request or receive any information from children.
9. Notices and Changes. Over time, BiMedical’s business may change. BiMedical and its authorized reseller(s) may use customer information for new, unanticipated uses not previously disclosed in our Privacy Policy. Accordingly, BiMedical’s Privacy Policy and Terms of Use may change also, and use of information that we gather now is subject to the Privacy Policy in effect at the time of use. You are bound by any such revisions and should therefore periodically visit this page to review the then current Privacy Policy.

10. Contact Us. If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, or if you would like to request more information about BiMedical™, write to us at BiMedical.net, LLC, 1700 Ridgeway Road, Dayton, OH 45419; or email us at info@BiMedical.net.
